Embellish the Essence of a Dynamic Image

What constitutes a Dynamic Image? Let's examine each word, which will allow you to embellish the essence of this business concept. Image is shown in a business person who is impeccability dressed exemplifying an image that is strategically engineered and deliberately executed. Thought and very deliberate effort goes into the selection of fabric, the color coordination, shoes and hair style, which provide the substance that defines the outward appearance. Image transcends verbal and non verbal communication. It is a composite of business etiquette, self-presentation, business stationery and correspondence, effective networking, developing a professional mission statement and understanding the mechanics of upward mobility. A business person coached in these areas are impeccably poised to capitalize on the human capital.

The second word in this business concept is dynamic. What constitutes Dynamic in dynamic image? It is proven values that define the dynamic image. Proven values such as hard work, completing a task, humility, honesty, impeccability, community service, and "going that extra mile". It is not how well known you are, it is how well respected you are. It is not in the power you take, but the power you give.

Dynamic Image is where form and substance intersect and the result is a business person ready to reach the fullest potential. A dynamic image, a business plan and an opportunity to execute is the combination for success.

Food for Thought

A global economy is the direction of business today. Transacting business internationally is trending toward the norm not the exception. Our goal is to develop a generation of Dynamic Leaders who understand how to lead in this environment. An understanding of how to navigate the corporate power structure is critical in your role as power brokers and savvy community minded leaders.

Academics and your degree provide the benchmark. Understanding how to leverage these skills in in the corporate arena is how Dynamic Images International provide the roadmap for success.

Business relationships are the cornerstone of a dynamic image. Business relationships are based on consistency in word, actions, deeds and professional presentation. Consistency in your professional presentation leads to trust. Trust ignites the confidence on which relationships are built. It positions us for more successful business endeavors, which ultimately advances us to higher levels of accomplishments. Eighty percent of the time people determine whether they will build a relationship with you before you utter a word. It is your image that motivates others to follow. It is your image that is the foundation of a dynamic image. It is the visual presentation that sends a positive or negative message about you.
